

The Journal of the Islington Archaeology & History Society

Back page picture

The restored mural at Bevin Court, Day and Night Winged Bulls, painted by Peter Yates in 1954, was unveiled in May. It draws on the coat of arms of Finsbury and includes: the winged bull of St Luke; dolphins representing St James; a pool of water referring to New River Head; the Clerks' Well in the centre; the city walls and gate referencing the Liberty of Glasshouse; Yard and the dome of St John's (or maybe St Paul's); and St Luke's tower to the left

